Q) I'd like to give you a situation and ask you to act it out.

There is on increase in the divorce rate. As a result, children who live wuth one parent go through difficultes. Suggest atleast two things to solve the problem.

A)

First, if a child is under 18 years old, parents shouldn't be allowed to divorce.

Children didn't have any choice but to have them as parents.

Parents should take responsibility for their children's life first.

Meanwhile, the government can provide some counseling facilities.

and make it compulsory for parents to go once a year.

Second, If the first one is not realistic, then society should accept the fact

The government and adults should educate people and their children,

Society should be warm to those children who are suffering because of their parents, not as if it is their fault! Those children should be treated equally with other normal children. Then, children will be less hurt and have a more normal life.
